WRITTEN OPINION OF THE INTERNATIONAL SEARCHING AUTHORITY (SEPARATE SHEET)

PCT/EP2004/053628

International application No.

Re Item III

Non-establishment of opinion with regard to novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability

The claims are unclear to an extent that an examination of the claimed subject-matter is not possible (for reasons see item VIII).

Re Item VIII

Certain observations on the international application

- 1. Since claims 1-6 define the cobalamin derivatives essentially by functional features they lack clarity within the meaning of Article 6 PCT . Similar objections are valid against claims 19-25 in so far they are related to claims 1-6.
- 2. It is apparent from table 1 and page 14, lines 14-15 of the description that compounds falling within the scope of claims 7-18 are TCII binders and do not fall within the functional definitions given in claim 1 (see the reference compounds 5, 6, 8, 14, 20, 25). Sine claims 7-18 comprise compounds according to the invention (TCII non-binders) and also compounds outside the scope of the claimed invention (TCII binders) they do not meet the requirements of Article 6 PCT. Similar objections are valid against claims 19-25 in so far they are related to claims 7-18.
- 3. Claims 1-6 do not meet the requirements of Article 5 PCT in view of the fact that undue effort would be needed to carry out the invention over the whole scope of the claim. Similar objections are valid against claims 20-25 in so far they are related to claims 1-6.
